"Friends are an aid to the young, to guard them from error . . ."

Aristotle

We, the graduating class of 1950, dedicate our Yearbook to Mr. Abell and Miss Leavitt. Through their guidance, leadership, and friendship, we have learned to apply good sportsmanship to our daily lives as well as to athletics.

FACULTY

First Row: Miss Ratté, Miss McIntyre, Mrs. Marshall, Mr. Warren, Miss Murray, Miss Campbell, Mrs. Creamer.
Second Row: Miss Harriman, Mrs. Whiting, Miss Wright, Miss Spidle, Mrs. Mahoney, Mrs. Sandberger, Miss Leavitt, Miss Wheeler.
Third Row: Mr. Ingraham, Mr. Turner, Mr. Goddard, Mr. Abell, Mr. Wilder, Mr. Adzigian, Mr. Dodge.
Fourth Row: Mr. Tucker, Mr. Cheever, Mr. Gillespie, Mr. Moyle, Mr. Cooper, Mr. Sherwood.

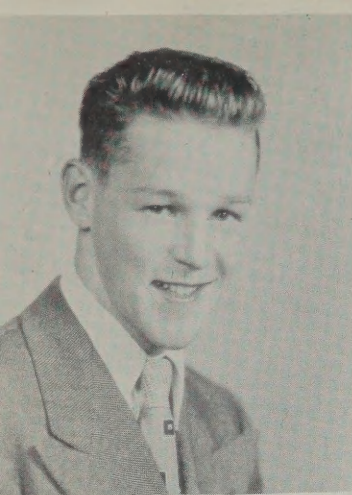

To the class of 1950:

In this group you have some real friends — older than you, sometimes critical of you but often helpful to you. They join me in extending best wishes to you all.

Manfred L. Warren.

GRADUATES

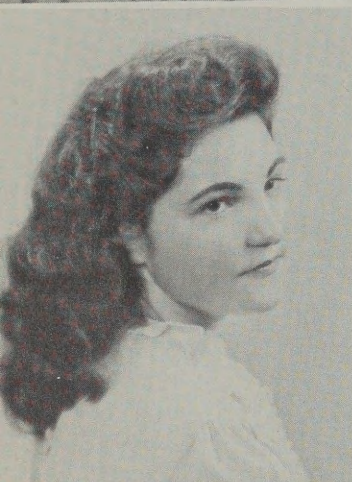

JOHN ERNEST ADAMS

Old Billerica Road, Bedford

Popular John showed his outstanding athletic ability this year. Serving as our class president and co-captain of the football team, John's assurance of fine leadership is certain.

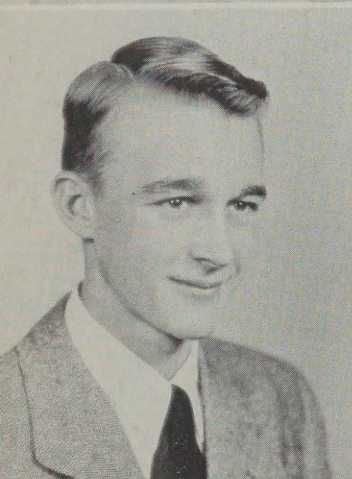

Baseball 1, 2, 3; Class Pres. 2; Football 1, 2, Co-Capt. 3; Stud. Council 3.

DOROTHY AGRILLO 3 First Avenue, Bedford

Laughing, gay, and full of fun, that's Dotty, who is a versatile lass with a winning personality. Her favorite pastimes are dancing and ice skating.

Intramurals 1; Softball 1, 2.

WILLIAM ANDERSON 16 Shade Street

Bill has always been well-liked by both teachers and students because of his willingness to co-operate and his good sportsmanship.

Baseball 1; Intramurals 1, 2.

CAROLYN LUCY BACON 58 Middle Street

Cal is one of the more lively members of our class. Her enthusiasm is especially evident in class discussions.

ACTIVITIES

STUDENT COUNCIL

First Row: R. Berglund, J. Furdon, P. Dodge, J. Downey, Mr. Moyle, R. Burke, J. Swanson.
Second Row: N. Thomann, A. Cotter, W. Short, D. Gray, J. Durfee, M. Cumming.
Third Row: J. Fradette, R. Higgins, R. Rosenberger, K. Cox, J. Hathaway, W. McDonough, J. Adams.

Under the capable leadership of their officers (R. Burke, president; J. Downey, vice-president; P. Dodge, secretary; J. Furdon, treasurer) and the faculty adviser, Mr. Moyle, this year's Student Council members continued their campaign to bring about a closer relationship between the council and the student body. Early in the year they held an assembly in which they explained what the council is and some of its functions, such as the sale of A. S. A. tickets and the planning of social affairs. During October, four Sophomore members and one new Senior were elected.

The greatest single accomplishment of the council this year was the introduction of a more democratic voting system, patterned after the one used nationally in adult elections, and complete with checkers, ballot-clerks, and private voting booths. This system was used effectively in the election of class officers and Lexington's candidates for Good Government Day (J. Adams for the Senate, and K. Cox for the House of Representatives).

The Student Council was also instrumental in the distribution of a new and better "Spotlight", which appeared in the form of a small magazine, and in the purchase of a much-needed public address system for the school.

YEARBOOK STAFF

The Yearbook Staff sincerely hopes that all the graduates of the class of 1950 will always find this book a pleasant haven of memories in the years to come.

We would also like to extend our most sincere gratitude to Miss Kinley and Mr. Moyle who worked so diligently with us to help make the book a success.

The Lexington Chapter of the National Honor Society was first organized in June 1947. This organization gives recognition to outstanding students on the basis of scholarship, leadership, service, and character. Candidates are first nominated by a classmate, and on the nomination paper there is a record of the person's marks and school activities. A final decision is then made by the faculty who considers carefully the four points required of the candidate. Seven new members were installed at an impressive ceremony on Tuesday, January 24, led by the six members who were elected in their junior year. Pins, on which is the torch emblem of the society, were presented to each new member. To be a member of this society is the highest honor that can be given to any student.

Although the record doesn't show it, the Lexington High School football team had one of its most successful seasons as far as spunk and fight go. Coach Chet Ingraham's charges showed plenty of hustle all year, and even though they were not on the winning road, they can't be accused of not trying. The Blue and Gold reached their heights against a strong class B Wakefield eleven, winning by a 6-0 count. The boys went into the Concord tilt with a chance for an upset, but after fighting every inch of the way, they lost 20 to 0. Definite standouts on this year's club were Larry McLaughlin and Jack Cerasuolo in the forward wall, and backfieldmen Win Ricker, Bill McDonough, Jack Adams, and John Fradette.

FIELD HOCKEY

First Row: M. Connor, P. Dodge, J. Swanson, A. Bowker, R. Berglund, Miss Leavitt, M. Burke, J. Packard, A. Damery, N. Joslin, B. Lynah.
Second Row: M. Ferry, D. Russell, D. Wiltshire, B. Moakley, M. Webb, P. Catton, A. Ferry, M. Richardson, P. Miller.
Third Row: B. Rymes, A. Heaney, S. Tutin, P. Delcurey, M. Whalen, M. Zehner, M. Nelson, M. Woodbury, E. Norton, G. Busa.

Five wins and only two defeats made the field hockey team appear very successful this year. Miss Doris Leavitt's good guiding of her peppy and skillful girls, with the fine leadership of Co-Captains Ruth Berglund and Madelyn Burke, had the entire school rooting for them all season. The opposition found a defense that was hard to penetrate. Halfbacks Ann Bowker, Ruth Berglund, Madelyn Burke, fullbacks, Nancy Joslin, Judy Swanson, and goalie Betty Lynah were always on the alert. Forwards Alice Damery, Jane Packard, Mary Connor, Phyllis Dodge, Beverly Rymes, and Captain-elect Pat Miller kept the ball deep in the opponents' territory. Seniors who played on the undefeated junior Varsity were the hard-driving fullbacks Captain M. Whalen, A. Heaney, M. Webb, M. Richardson, and forwards S. Tutin and B. Moakley.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

First Row: W. Cunningham, K. Hoyt, K. Cox, K. Schmid, J. Furdon, R. Stevens, R. Lee.

Second Row: D. Patton, J. Busa, T. Snelson, R. Weisinger, R. Rosenberger, R. Koester, L. McLaughlin, K. Bond, Mr. Turner, Mr. Abell.

Third Row: R. Bickford, R. Higgins, R. Medeiros, F. McDonough, R. Lombard, G. Illingsworth, A. Warren, L. Faulkingham.

The Lexington High hoop team, after getting off to a slow start, finally hit its peak and with a little less fate might have had a better record. The team lost five pre-league games in a row, including a four point defeat to the Alumni, but they have been a thorn in the side of many in the fast Middlesex league. One good thing about this year's team is their coolness under pressure, for they have taken three overtime contests. Ken Cox and Jim Furdon have constituted the back bone of the club this year, while Karl Schmid is just beginning to score with regularity. Cox is high scorer with 126 markers, but Dick McDonnell, who is the best shot on the team, is close behind with 116 points. Other boys who are playing crowd-pleasing basketball are Ken Hoyt, Bill Cunningham, Dick Stevens, and Toby Snelson.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

First Row: B. Shaw, J. Packard, M. Zehner, A. Damery, M. Whalen, H. Stevens, A. Cotter, B. Litchenberg.
Second Row: J. Catalano, S. Lee, M. McLaughlin, P. Mortimer, D. Russo, S. Gay, B. Bump, M. Norlin, Miss Leavitt.
Third Row: P. Delourey, E. Samborski, J. Flaherty, M. Nelson, J. Layte.

The basketball team has had its most victorious season in many years. Up to the time of playing Arlington's strong team, the girls had won six games and lost none. Doing a fine job of guarding the basket for the first team were guards Captain Alice Damery, Mary Whalen, Barbara Shaw, and sophomore Barbara Litchenberg. The girls who were responsible for piling up the score against their opponents were Helen Stevens, Ann Cotter, Jane Packard, and sophomore Mary Zehner. The girls played excellent basketball against very strong opponents. The accurate shooting of the forwards and the superb guarding have kept their rivals' score to a minimum. This team was a big threat to any opponent. Senior girls who played well on the Junior Varsity were Co-Captains Sue Tutin and Mary Connor, and Beverly Bump.

HOCKEY

First Row: B. Dunan, W. Barrett, J. Galvin, W. Johnston, J. Harrington, R. Burke, F. DeFelice.

Second Row: G. Galbraith, T. McDonough, D. Meek, W. Mears, J. Higgins, P. Vadebonceur, H. Smith, R. Mercer, T. Vaccarello, D. DeFelice.

The Lexington High pucksters have come a long way this year and at the time of writing this are in the hot battle for third place. The scoring punch, which has been missing all year, was finally found in the last game as the boys poured it on Hudson 7-0. The first line of Joseph Harrington, Dick Burke, and Walter Johnson has done a good job, scoring a large percentage of the goals. Coach Tom Moon, former Olympic star, has built a very fine defensive setup with his boys. Frank DeFelice has been brilliant in the nets, while Don Flaherty, Bill Barrett, and Jack Galvin have been holding forth on the blue line.

CHEERLEADERS

The cheerleading squad this year consisted of five seniors, two juniors, and three sophomores. These girls were chosen from a large group of candidates for their vitality, enthusiasm, and ability to organize and to spark the cheering sections at all games. Led by their able captain Mary Whalen, they did an outstanding job at the football and basketball games. They will always be remembered for their colorful interpretation of "Two Bits, Four Bits" and for their peppy singing. Their unwavering loyalty and their everlasting enthusiasm were apparent wherever they went. We have been very proud to have this group represent Lexington High School at home and on trips to neighboring towns and cities. Seniors on the squad this year were Mary Whalen, Mary Connor, Ann Cotter, Phyllis Dodge, and Norma Fenerty. Juniors were Sally Tutin and Dorothy Wiltshire, and sophomores were Mary Buckley, Loreen Norlin, and Marion White.
